

CURTAINS AND RODS

CURTAIN WITH TYPE

SHEER CURTAIN:

Sheer curtains are there to provide privacy within the homes as well as to help accentuate your decorative style, this would allow you to benefit from the light and privacy during the day time.

MAIN CURTAIN:

Main curtains will entrance any bedroom or living space one biggest benefit of main curtains is their ability to block light from entering a room another benefit of curtains is their ability to reduce your energy costs, in most homes 10-25% of thermal energy loss is from windows. Block out curtains can be used to reduce these outside noises through the window completely.

LINING CLOTH:

Curtains lining have an additional layer of curtain. This additional layer is best described as a light & thermal Control, curtains lining available in translucent, Dimout & Blackout.

TYPES OF CURTAINS

We are providing customizing and valances you can create a great custom feel by experimenting with these different types of curtains.

PINCH PLEATS

Pinch pleat sometimes known as ' French Pleat' is a hand-made curtains heading where the pleats and finished width of each curtain is carefully planned so that they fit your pole exactly we use buckram (a stiffener) in the heading and calculate the position of each pleat even distribution of pleats across each curtain giving a reasonably uniform look that suits traditional (or) contemporary styles.

EYELET CURTAINS

You can use eyelet curtains to dress up your house and provide you with a modern experience making eyelet curtains can be easy and simple, eyelets are metal rings, in this case, it services an additional production and adds strength to the fabric, so as to hold the curtain in place.

TAB TOP CURTAINS

Curtains or panels with fabric loops (tabs) at the top edge, they are threaded through poles(or) rods. Tab top curtains require for less Fabric than French pleat.

PENCIL PLEATED BLINDS

An attractive heading that creates even gathers across the width of the drapes. It adds a soft, romantic look to a simple window treatment

BOX PLEATED CURTAINS

A unique alternative to the traditional pinch pleat, box pleats create the very tailored styling of this drape. For optimal effect and function, use either as a stationary treatment with tiebacks or with a decorative rod.

ROD POCKET CURTAINS

A drapery treatment that creates a shirred heading looks by gathering fabric onto a rod. The treatment can be dressed with a ruffle above the rod, or without if being used under a valance. Rod pocket covers can also be used to separate panels.

RIPPLE CURTAINS

The curtain is provided with a snap belt. This can be used to attach the curtain simply to the Swing skids. The Slides are continually kept equidistant by means of a clever cord that lies invisibly in the rail. This allows your curtain to drape everywhere in an S-shaped fold, even when the curtain is closed.

The curtain can be removed more easily from the skids for washing.

The opaque lining can be installed separately from the curtain and can be washed separately.

The click-in skids can even be washed along with the curtains.
